“ Uncle there are no words to describe the pain I am feeling in my heart. I cannot wrap my head around the thought that you are gone. You had the most beautiful smile with your dimples. You suffered so much uncle and for that I am so sorry. You are happy now with my Aunt Jeannie. May you rest in peace uncle fly high go be happy now no more pain and suffering. I will visit you often. I love you so very much. Lorraine Lucero

“ I would always go visit Andrew at his house, on my Harley and he always would be like dude that bike is so cool, then we would go up on the back patio and he always offered me a beer, which I never registered we would sit up there and talk, mostly about Jeannie and how he missed her so, but we talked about how he was gonna get a bike so we could go ride. One time I was out riding following my wife and kids in the Jeep and we were at Sam's club and he called and asked what I was doing and I said not much just cruising around and he said oh I was talking with Louise about you the other day about you, and I interrupted him and asked him if he was home and he said yes, I said I'll be right there. I told my wife I'm gonna go see Andrew at his house and she said OK, I got there he offered me a beer and we just sat there and bull shited for a couple hours until my wife kept calling, when you coming home, when I'm done visiting my friend

“ Uncle Andrew RIP you are going to be missed by many. I will cherish all the memories of you and my aunt camping, fishing and having a great time. I'll remember your last days when you had a taste of your beer and your eyes showed how much you enjoyed it. Prayers go out to your family.
Love Donnie and Jeannette

“ Andrew and my sister was always there for me. When Patti Kathy and I were teenagers we always visited Andrew and Jeannie. I'll never forget the time we three visited them. We were all decked out and Andrew decided to have a whipped cream pie fight. Needless to say we never made it to the party. We'd have water fights, etc. Andrew always played tricks on we three. There was never a time when my sister Jeannie and Andrew weren't there to support me with what ever I needed. You can say my sister Jeannie and brother in law Andrew were like my young second parents to me. They are now together and they both will be missed. RIP Andrew, your sister in law Kathy.
