

Ramona Marie Morales

October 10, 1973 - November 20, 2021

Ramona Marie Morales gained her wings on November 20th, 2021. She was born October 10th, 1973, in Denver, Colorado to Charles Duran and Anita Duran. She is preceded in death by her father Charles Duran; paternal grandparents Frank Duran and Sadie Klinghammer; Maternal grandparents Ramona O'cana and Benny Gallegos along with aunts, uncles, and cousins from both sides of her family. Ramona is survived by her children and grandchildren, Annyssa, Aleigha (Emily)(Evan), Anneliese (Jeremiah)(Elijah) (Londyn)(Ellyanna), Alexandra (Dominick)(Ariyah), Autumn, Angel (Ayden), Aaron, Adrian, and Aniyah; Mother Anita; Siblings Sherry (Evelio), Joseph (Sandy) and Bernadette (Michael); along with numerous nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, and cousins. Ramona grew up in Denver, Colorado where she attended West High School but later in life obtained her G.E.D. She started her family at an early age and made a life for her and her children as a homemaker. Although Ramona struggled at times as a single parent, she always made the best of any situation and took care of her kids. Ramona is known for her cooking, arts and crafts and her love of music. She loved trying new recipes and bringing them to family gatherings and would have a smile from ear to ear when told how much everyone loved the food. She did arts and crafts from coloring to making lip gloss with her youngest daughter Aniyah, while most recently she loved making keychains, ashtrays and much more out of resin. Ramona had a great love of music and was able to express herself through it. She was a huge fan of country music and her all time favorite artist was Kane Brown. Anyone that knew Ramona knew she had a big heart. She was a beautiful soul that was taken from her family too soon. We will forever miss Ramona's personality, laughter, and beautiful smile. We are so grateful to the lord for blessing her with 48 years on this earth. We treasure her in our hearts always and one day our families broken chain will link again.

“ My mom had the biggest heart and she was the kindest person ever, even when she was struggling she would help out in any way she could. I remember when I found out I was pregnant she was the first person I told and after that day she helped me out so much, she made sure I was fed and had the proper clothes for when my belly grew and she also got me all kinds of baby clothes and even a car seat she helped me out so much and for my sons 1st birthday she was there at my house with a cake and a couple presents for him because we didn’t have money for a big party for him and when my son finally got his own room my mom felt bad he didn’t have any decorations in his room so she went out of her way to buy my son all kinds of lighting McQueen things and she was so happy to give them to him , she loved him so much even tho he was a butt to her most days. I miss her so much and think about her all day and I wish I didn’t have to be like this and I can’t help but wish she would call and say she was ok and she was at home, I’m gonna miss her laugh and her funny sayings she used to say, I’m gonna miss going to your house and just sitting there talking about the memories you had of us when we were little and just listening to music being with each other but I know you’re in a better place and at peace I just wish it wasn’t true 😭 I love you mom and one day we will meet again and share all the new stories we have.

“ My mother was so beautiful to me. A while ago when i lived with her we were super close i knew everything about her and she knew everything about me. I miss those days when we would sit back and watch our favorite movie dirty dancing together. She loved all four of my children and even though we stopped being as close i seen her for her 48th birthday. I did her hair and her makeup she then looked in the mirror after i was done and smiled and said "omg i look like you" lol she loved it and that whole day all i seen was smiles and laughter from her. The last day i seen her i was leaving her house and i told her i loved her and she said it back and i left Im gonna miss you so much my angel ❤️ until we meet again momma 💙

“ My sister had a huge heart and every Christmas she would make peppermint/spearmint spoons for my coffee. Last Christmas because of covid we didn't get to spend it together but she messaged me. “Hey are you home” and “are you home” I text back yes and she said she was gonna drop by cause she had candy for me. Of course I was excited she made me some peppermint peanut clusters.

We hung out for my wife Sandy's birthday and then Mona's birthday. She was so happy playing cornhole with and she never played before. She was actually winning and winning her and her partner!

My mom called me and told me she was in the hospital. I text her and told her to keep us updated. I had an opportunity to say I love you and she said love you too. I know she loved everyone, especially her kids and grandkids. I text her the next day and never got any response. I miss my sis. I just wanted to know she was gonna be ok. I know she left us but I know she is ok in heaven.

“ Mona and I were 5 months apart in age and were very close as little girls.

We hung out almost every weekend when our parents would visit. I can still see us running around and sharing childhood dreams.

One dream I will always remember was when she and I talked about moving to Hawaii and living together when we grew up. That of course never happened, but it was fun dreaming.

During our middle and high school years, our lives took different paths and I'd only see her occasionally at family gatherings or her baby showers.

Our last time spent together was at the beginning of October. She actually had some drinks (I rarely saw her drink), danced, laughed and had the biggest smile. When my husband and I drove her home that night, Mona said she had a great time and looked forward to her birthday and doing it again. I didn't make it to her birthday gathering, but

I'm blessed that I had this last night with her, and the last memory of her was a great one. We were having fun and enjoying life.

I can only imagine you enjoying the endless palm trees, rainbows and waterfalls in heaven. (Hawaii)

I'll see you again someday cousin.
