“ The time I met Mr. Raul was very short, but in that time he taught me many things, taught me to persevere at work, to respect your environment and the people around us, to let you know with a smile and an attitude kind to all people, showed me a part of the Mexican American that represents the spirit and strength of people who fight for a dream and their family, an exemplary person who only quenad very few, there was a day when raul not He told me about his beloved town in Gomez Farias, which he always carried in his heart, with his friends uncles and cousins that he did not look at in too long, his daughter and his grandchildren, his wife and his beloved Vicente son, he was a proud father , for the excellent moral of her daughter, and her little Vicente, a very intelligent child, who will one day be a great scientist because that is her dream because she is a spectacular child who can do everything in her words: my son is special and I know that some On the day he will change things for the better, he is a wonderful child.

We traveled 4 hours a day, and at the time of doing his daily tasks, never found a moment in which he did not talk about his family, friends and all the people he loved. Today we give our last goodbye to our friend who, by God's will, has decided to return home; his absence fills us with a lot of sadness and it is normal, we will not see him again of physical body as we were used to seeing him during his years of life, but it fills us with a deep hope to know that it is already part of time and space, that his soul is already part of us, which has merged with the universe itself and from there takes care of us, guides us and is aware of us.

In life he was an exemplary being, an enviable friend, a great person, a judicious, hard-working and generous man, full of values and love for his family.

Raul will never die at all, because a part of him will always live in our hearts and in our memories. There was little time to meet him, but the lessons I learned, and the advice he gave me, I will never forget. Thanks for everything Mr. Raul.

Sincerely your friend Erick Beltran
