“ Son , I'm hurting without you. I don't understand how they could save me over and over but could not save you. I miss you more and more every day it's lonely without you here with me. Life can be so unfair I would give my self and everything I own to have you back at home. It's just not the same without you. Just know there is not a min that goes by that I'm not thinking of you. I love you so much son you didn't deserve this your such a good young man. The better part of me I try and stay busy make the time pass each day I'm one day closer to being with you again. Intel then my son I love you.... watch over grandma and grandpa for me. I pray to you all the time every day to help me, be strong. It was hard to have Christmas without you all I wanted was to see you be goofy miss your smile and your laugh I just miss you son.. you will always be on my mind and in my heart RIP my son Daddy will forever love you..

“ To my handsome angel dancing in the sky, I miss you so much. You lived such a joyful life, I am glad I met you in elementary and got to be with you. The past three/four years of my life have been so amazing with you back in it. It sucks you had to go... I just wish this was all a nightmare. But it's our sickening reality. It's hard for everyone to adjust to life without you, everyone grieves different. You meant so much to everyone and I cherish every single memory me and you created. You were my other half, like you would tell me all the time. We were going to get married and start a family when we got older, even though in your eyes I was already your wife and our pets were our children. It's hard to understand why this happened, but please watch over all of your family, friends, and me. Rest in paradise my handsome boyfriend

“Xavier, it so hard to sit here and write this I still can't even believe your gone hito it's so unreal. I was just writing you not to long ago telling you how proud I am of the man you have become and how you have such a good head on your shoulders and you have so many good things ahead of you in life and I just wanted you to know that your an amazing kid feeled with nothing but respect and love for everyone you never judged no one no matter what. These kids these days all follow each other one does something and then before you know it they are all following but nope not you you did your own thing you where always the leader to start something are the one to stand up for a kid that's getting pickd on I never imagined this in a million years hito it's so no fair I don't know why God had to choose you but I hope you know xavier I love you with you with all my heart hito and I'll do whatever I can to be here for your dad and grandma and grandpa. But you have to promise your gonna be looking down watching over all of us we love you xavier james vigil you will NEVER be for gotten I promise!
